

Can a smaller space

MAKE ROOM FOR BIG LIVING?

A NEW HOME THAT opens the door to so much more.

Adventure meets security

In many cases, one-bedroom and studio floor plans represent the absolute best value available at Brandon Wilde. When you then factor in the lifelong benefits that come with calling a Life Plan Community home, that value only becomes all the more obvious.

Your chance to rightsize

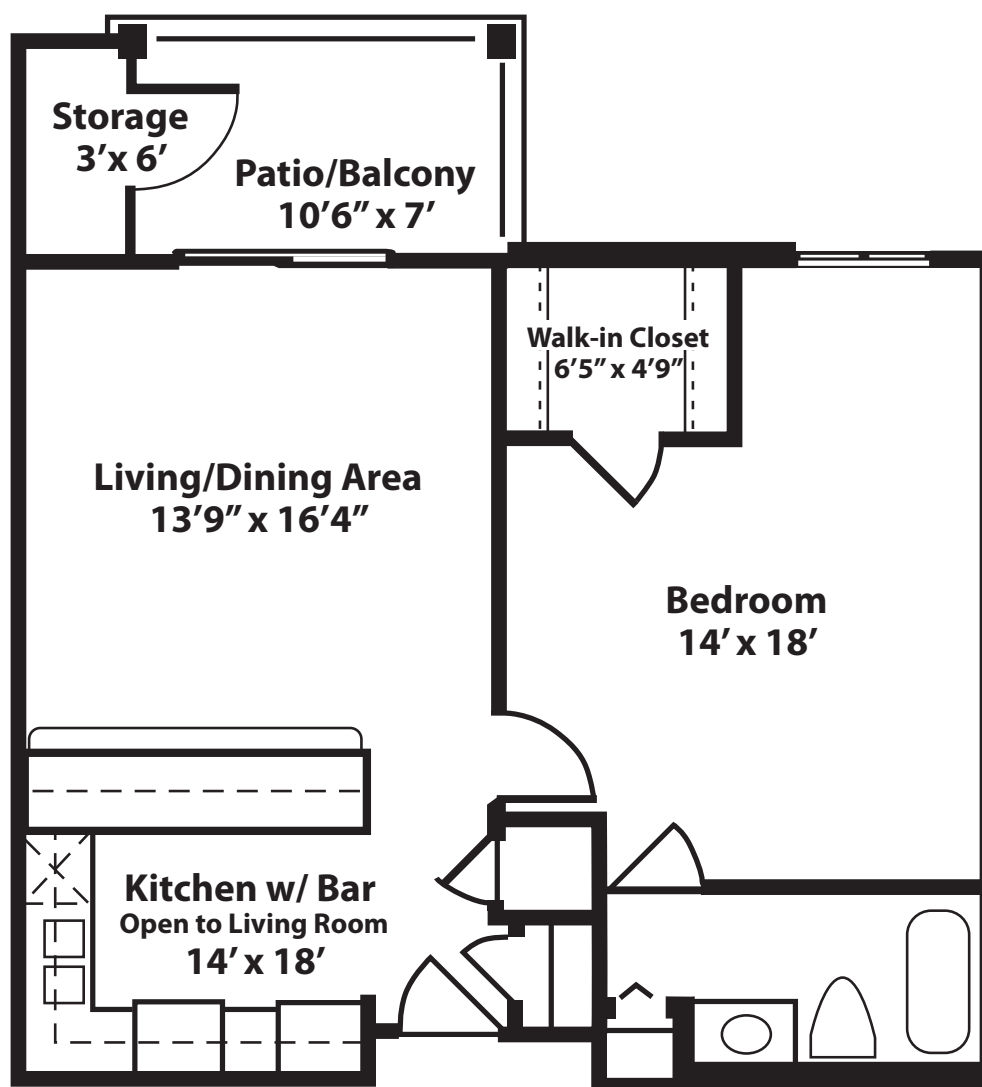

While moving to a smaller space may feel like a challenge, it also represents a terrific opportunity to organize, declutter and make more room more for what you love. And when you find a rightsized residence that perfectly fits your lifestyle, you forgo the added upkeep and expense of space you don't need or use.

Everything you need, nothing you don't

These well-appointed residences come loaded with creature comforts and often more practical, usable space than you think. Plus, they keep you effortlessly in touch with an impressive array of thoughtful services, amenities and everyday conveniences that live just steps outside your door. Thoughtfully integrated community features include:

- Chef-crafted dining options
- Wellness programs designed to help you stay happy and healthy
- Modern, fully equipped fitness center with certified trainer
- Indoor saltwater pool
- Beautifully landscaped grounds and inviting common spaces
- A continuum of top-quality, on-site senior health care services
- Connection to all your favorite local destinations
- All interior and exterior maintenance provided
- Utilities and property taxes paid
- Full service salon

The enlivening connection of community

A supportive and friendly network of neighbors who share your passion for living can boost your well-being in considerable ways. Especially so when they're part of a community lifestyle that makes it easy to nurture your ongoing health and happiness. More than a place to lay your head, your new residence puts a wealth of exceptional opportunities at your fingertips — from purposeful and fulfilling wellness programs and invigorating social engagements to fresh and delicious dining options that make every meal a delight.

A perfect place to start

Finally, if you have your sights set on a more scarcely available residence option but know you want to move now, selecting a smaller floor plan can be a terrific way to get your foot in the door. You'll be able to become fully immersed and engaged in community life, begin forging rich and rewarding relationships, and remain first in line for your desired floor plan.
